

Why choose Health Industry Training?

Health Industry Training is one of Australia's leading health and community services training providers, owned and operated by health professionals. If you're ready to make a change in your career or are looking to further advance your skills in the health and community services sector, Health Industry Training can help.

Quality Training

We are committed to providing high quality training courses in accessible, innovative and flexible learning environments, Australia wide. By doing so we aim to nurture the intellectual, cultural and social development of individuals, inspiring them to achieve to their full potential.

Our courses are specifically designed, ensuring students are equipped with the necessary knowledge, skills and practical experience needed to secure a place in the health and community services sector.

Flexibility

We pride ourselves on providing our students with the freedom to study their way, and at their pace, with the support of a qualified personal trainer. With flexible delivery methods available, each student will work one-on-one with their trainer to tailor a study plan and timetable that is conducive to their learning style and existing commitments.

The delivery methods available include:

- Group based learning in a structured workshop environment (depending on numbers)
- Self paced learning via distance modules
- Block training
- Practical work placement
- Trainer led support sessions
- Peer support groups

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is available for all nationally recognised qualifications.
